

SPEEDCASH (SCS) WHITE PAPER v1.0

INTRODUCTION

SpeedCash is a ERC20 Token focused on the Store of value and Trading, in a fully decentralized eco system, using a smart contract in one of the best cryptocurrencies.

This article abstractly describes a system designed to serve as a store of value and also be used as a currency and conventional use.

Due to innumerable measures in all governments to combat the economic problem caused by the pandemic, government spending is having a harmful effect on economies, an effect that can cause a major depression worldwide causing half the companies to fail and this it will be catastrophic, so SpeedCash aims to serve as a valuable storage currency, protecting your capital from government policies that are spending more than they can afford.

In addition to having the purpose of being a valuable storage currency, SpeedCash can also be used for purchases and sales in the trade, this like any other coin does (or aims to), due to a smart contract based on ethereum network which is known for being a solid, very fast and stable network, making the use of this token for countless other things besides the purposes mentioned here.
